Also they can be easily embedded using HTML or included as a ZIP archive. What do you think about the icon? It should be embed into the website, I never use any 3rd party icons because they always fail. I use this iconset and they work fine. The only problem with this iconset is that the website that I made has text where I need icons but they are missing, its a huge website with a lot of text so I can't add them one by one.
